

Toby Woodhouse

Bournemouth-based Mr. Sosa has gone from strength to strength over the past two years and has made a serious name for himself on the house and breakbeat scene, known for his menacing tart lines and catchy chords. Renown for his elusive sound of hard-hitting house stomps that float in the sands of open-air festivals.

His works have landed him on labels such as Anjunadeep, Dealt With Records, Last Night On Earth and Of Unsound Mind amongst others.

His unique works consolidate a sound full of cinematographic influences. Few producers know how to play his cards as well as he does, scoring a track that calls into question the rules of the genre, building a timeless set, to which we will go over time trying to decipher that magical and complex mechanism that manages to transcend all expectations of dance music.

Toby Woodhouse aka Mr. Sosa has developed a distinct production identity, impressing some of the biggest names across the electronic landscape. He's gone from strength to strength releasing on the biggest labels and gathering support from radio heavy hitters like BBC Radio 1's Jack Saunders and BBC Introducing's Jaguar.

Since joining 23rd Precinct Music in 2020, he has proven himself a relentlessly talented producer who is open to working pan-genre and collaborating with writers and producers across the globe.

Toby is represented by Acid Booking Crew for management.

For more information on Toby Woodhouse, please contact: susan@23rdprecinctmusic.com

Mr. Sosa performs Anjunabeats live stream on famous Jurassic Coast

